

Senate Plan May Shut Off U.S. Aid to France and Italy

WASHINGTON (P)—Foreign Relations Committee senators awaited a State Department OK today on a plan which by year's end could snap the foreign aid pipeline to two major U. S. allies, France and Italy.

Acting Committee Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), who took the virtual ultimatum to department chiefs for a quick study yesterday, said he believes they welcomed it but wanted to be "perfectly clear as to just what the language means" before the senators take a final vote—perhaps at a closed session today.

The amendment, tentatively adopted without dissent in a week end session, would shut off U. S. military and economic assistance to France and Italy Dec. 31 if they fail by then to join the European Defense Community or an acceptable substitute defense scheme.

Offered by Sen. Knowland of California, the majority leader, the new amendment is a tougher version of wording already adopted by the House when it passed the foreign aid bill now before the Senate group. Smith said it would cut in half the delivery of goods on order—"in the pipeline," as he phrased it.

The House provision, known as the Richards amendment, would deny to either country a share of 1954 or 1955 foreign aid funds if they stayed out of EDC. But it would have let them continue to get benefits from the 1951, 1952 and 1953 programs.

Asst. Secretary of State Livingston T. Merchant was quoted in Foreign Relations Committee testimony made public yesterday as saying he had no objection to the Richards amendment.

Merchant predicted, however, that both France and Italy would join EDC this year. Four other nations — West Germany, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg — have ratified the six-nation project, which calls for an international army to defend Europe. The United States views such joint action by the Europeans themselves as a necessary bulwark against the Soviet threat, but the French in particular have balked on grounds it opens the door to German rearmament.

Official sources in London said today American and British diplomats had worked out a short, four-power treaty to give West Germany near-independence this year if France fails to ratify the EDC Treaty.

These sources said the treaty, which would be signed by the United States, Britain, France and West Germany, would give the Bonn republic power to control most of its own affairs but would not provide for German rearmament outside of EDC.

Ike Puts Heat On Congress To Pass Bills

Antisubversive Laws Given Top Importance By Chief Executive

WASHINGTON (P)—Congress heads today into the scheduled final three weeks of its 1954 session with President Eisenhower prodding for stepped-up action on his program of antisubversive measures.

Republican leaders are aiming for a July 31 adjournment. Signs are that if they don't make it, they shouldn't miss by more than a week or two.

One of the fields where action has lagged is in the President's suggestions for legislation to deal with domestic subversives. Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, said Eisenhower applied some heat at last week's conference with Capitol Hill leaders to get their bills moving.

No major bill in the field has been approved by both branches of Congress. The Senate last year approved a measure to give immunity from federal prosecution to some witnesses in exchange for their testimony. The house this year approved use of wiretap information as court evidence in national security cases.

NEITHER of these bills is in the form the administration asked. The House has also OK'd bills to provide the death penalty for spying in peacetime and broaden the espionage and sabotage laws, and to increase penalties for harboring fugitives from justice.

There has been committee or subcommittee action on bills aimed at penalizing "Communist - infiltrated" organizations and giving the President authority in an emergency to bar suspected spies and Communists from defense plants.

Elsewhere on Capitol Hill, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee hoped to complete action today on a foreign aid authorization of about $3.1 billion into which it has tentatively written provisions:

(1) Putting Congress on record again as opposing Red China's entry into the United Nations and (2) Shutting off arms aid to France and Italy unless they approve a proposed European defense army or an acceptable alternative.

Other major legislation up for action this week, either in the House or Senate or in key committees, includes:

Atomic Energy Act—The Senate probably will open debate tomorrow on a bill embodying Eisenhower's recommendations for changes in the basic atomic law to permit giving certain weapons information to this nation's allies and to allow private firms to handle fissionable materials as a means of stimulating development of peacetime atomic power.

Taxes—Senate and House representatives plan to start Wednesday the big job of adjusting differences

Meanderings

A lot of people have been complaining of the oats bugs, or grain thrips, during the past 10 days or two weeks.

These annoying little insects are those tiny dark bugs which have wings, and sometimes fly about in swarms. When they alight, they start crawling, causing a very disagreeable sense of a movement on the skin.

Never before, reports state, have these insects been as numerous as this year, although some people claim they were just about as abundant 50 years ago as they are at the present time.

Anyway the little punkies are unusually abundant, particularly close to oats fields and the large acreage of oats may be largely responsible for the great number of the disagreeable pests.

Wheat Is Pouring Out of Combines Here Now

WAGONS LOADED WITH WHEAT, ALL DRAWN BY FARM TRACTORS, were lined up for nearly three-fourths of a mile out South Fayette Street Monday morning waiting to dump their grain into the Farm Bureau Co-op elevator. At the time this picture was taken there were 74 wagons in the line that extended well beyond East Elm Street. The situation was about the same at all the other elevators in the community.

Few Big Yields Reported—Quality Is Not Too Good

Wheat from 34,701 acres of Fayette County today was pouring out of the combines and into elevators and storage bins on the farms in a golden flood that will put an estimated $2,000,000 into the pockets of the farmers.

Indications were that the crest of the grain flood will have passed by the middle of the week, but that it will be some time yet before the harvest is completed.

Scores of combines were making their rounds in the fields under Sunday's sun and the wagons with the day's wheat were at the elevators here bright and early.

For a time the Farm Bureau Co-op elevator was operating at only half speed because of a breakdown in one of the unloading hoists.

Reports Monday were a repetition of those last week at the start of the harvest; in substance, the yields are no better than normal and the quality is below standard. The reports were the same from all the elevators queried.

THE BEST yield reported was one of 43 bushels per acre. There were no others that even came close to that. There were a few of 30 bushels an acre and one of 33 bushels an acre Monday.

Elevator men and farmers said the wheat this year was much drier than normal and that it was unusually light. The elevators said a load of No. 1 wheat was rarely and that there have not been many of No. 2. Most of the wheat taken thus far, it was said, has been running to No. 3 and No. 4.

At the Eschelman elevator both drives were lined with waiting grain trucks, but they were unloaded and moved out rapidly. Trucks also were lined up at the McDonald elevator.

Facilities of the elevators in Jeffersonville, Milledgeville, Madison Mills and New Holland were taxed, too.

Western Heat Blanket Heads Into East U. S.

CHICAGO (P)—The blanket of warm air which ran temperatures over 100 degrees generally over the Rocky Mountain and Plains states yesterday was spreading into the Great Lakes region today.

Fair and hot was the picture, the weather bureau here said, with scattered precipitation and moderate temperatures. Early morning temperatures in the high 70s and 80s proved it.

Nebraska and Kansas broiled yesterday under the highest reported temperatures, but the 100-plus heat extended from Utah and Colorado through the Dakotas and Iowa, and southward through Texas.

A sampling of temperatures: Kansas—Pittsburgh 115. Nebraska—Burwell 114. South Dakota—Philip 102. North Dakota—Bismarck 100. Wyoming—Casper 103. Colorado—Denver 102. Utah—Salt Lake City, 100. Iowa—Sioux City, 105. Missouri—Kansas City 108. Oklahoma—Oklahoma City 105. Texas—Dallas 108.

The only substantial falls of rain Sunday were along the South Atlantic coast—3.49 inches at Cape Hatteras, N. C., and 1.83 at Orlando, Fla.

Dayton Fireman Killed In Crash

DAYTON (P)—District Fire Chief Bernard Schaaf was killed today when his car and a fire department aerial ladder truck crashed at Third and Main Sts.

At least nine persons were reported injured. The truck smashed into a corner jewelry store in the busy downtown section.

Red Rebels Tighten Pincers Against Indochina Capital

HANOI, Indochina (P)—Vietminh legions tightened their pincers on Hanoi today but the war capital's French defenders claimed they had beat back an attack by 3,000 rebels only 20 miles from the city and killed at least 300 of the Communist-led force.

The French admitted their own losses were "appreciable" but gave no figures.

Other rebel units surged in from the northeast and northwest to strike at French outposts 25 miles above the imperiled city.

Clashes were reported yesterday at scores of points as the Vietminh kept up their pressure.

So busy were the French trying to hold their shrunken Red River delta defenses that they were unable to spare planes for more than token harassment of the long truck convoys rumbling south from the Red China frontier.

French reconnaissance pilots report that Red China is funneling more supplies into northern Indochina than she did in the days before the fall of the French bastion of Dien Bien Phu.

But a French briefing officer declared, "We do not have the planes to spare for more than harassment attacks against the convoys."

"It is more important now," he said, "that we bomb Vietminh guerrilla bases inside the delta."

Yesterday French warplanes rained nearly 150 tons of bombs on rebel bases inside the delta defenses, some of them less than 20 miles from Hanoi.

More than 100 bombers pounded a string of Vietminh bases which threatened to cut off Hung Yen, cornerstone of the delta defenses 25 miles southeast of Hanoi. Several villages were set afire.

North of Hanoi the French were more successful. They managed to reopen roads between Sept. Pagodes, Phu Lang Thung and Bac Ninh, 30 miles from the city.

This restored communications between the three towns, which form a protective triangle against rebels massing to the north.

Churchill Worried About H-Bomb

LONDON (P)—Prime Minister Churchill said today he went to Washington for his conference with President Eisenhower because he "was deeply concerned at the lack of information we possessed" about the hydrogen bomb.

"I thought I ought to have a personal meeting with President Eisenhower at the first convenient opportunity," the 79-year-old Prime Minister told Commons.

Churchill said a speech about the hydrogen bomb by Sterling Cole, chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee of Atomic Energy, on Feb. 17 had astonished him.

U. S. congressmen that American supplied arms might fall into Communist hands should there be a last-minute pullback from Hanoi.

A spokesman for the French Union commander, Gen. Paul Ely, said only 10 per cent of the guns, tanks and planes still being poured into this war-torn land are being stored in northern Indochina. And those depots are located in the port of Haiphong on the China Sea so their removal by ship should be comparatively easy.

It was also pointed out that newly arriving American supply ships are being diverted from Haiphong 700 miles south to Saigon.

Members of the Washington C. H. High School class of 1914 gathered in the high school cafeteria Sunday noon for the eighth class reunion since they were graduated 40 years ago.

With the alumni were their wives and husbands, their sons and daughters and their grandchildren as they all sat down to the covered basket dinner that always has been a part of the reunion in the past.

The gathering was marked by complete informality and most of the time was spent in renewing old friendships.

While most of the group still live in this immediate community, some came from a greater distance. Others who could not get here sent messages.

Registered for the reunion were Mrs. Mabel Graham Stevens of Xenia (a member of the faculty), Mr. and Mrs. Frank Collopy of Columbus, Mrs. Leon H. Rathbun (nee Lucy Edna Pine) of East Aurora, N. Y., Mrs. O. E. Hutchinson (Marie Madora) of Bedford, Marcus Baker of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Collopy, their ten children and grandchildren and Mr. and Mrs. Will T. Minturn of Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson (Senath Kellough) and daughters, Mrs. Richard Rankin, Richard Rankin and their children, Tom, Julie and David, Mrs. Homer Rulley (Mary Boylan), daughter, Mrs. Bill Thompson, sons, Bob and Mike, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Foster (Margaret Dailey), Mrs. Lydia Vincent Williams, her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Dube, and daughters, Dee Ann and Janie of Sabina, Mrs. Zoe Garringer and granddaughter, Judy, of Bloomingburg, Mrs. J. Earl McLean (Wanda Wolford), Mrs. Frank Lanum (Bess Andrews), Mrs. Urcel McCafferty Hays and son, Loren, and Mrs. Hays and their five children of Greenfield, John Schoonover and daughter, Mrs. Robert Lytton and son, Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Chapman, Otha Cox and daughter, Mrs. Melvin Lockhart, Mr. Lockhart and family of Newark, Mrs. Ruth Hanna Hopkins and granddaughter, Mary Ann Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Rankin Paul (Ada Woodward) and daughter, Mrs. Joe D. Craig.

Ex-convict Being Held Here Now Hints Marijuana Patch in County

Oscar Clyde Covey, 42, on parole from the Indiana State Prison, where he served a term for grand larceny, is being held here in connection with alleged possession of marijuana, a narcotic used in "reefer" cigarettes.

Covey is the man who two or three weeks ago accosted two officers in Columbus and offered to sell them some "marijuana" which upon examination is said to have been nothing more or less than ragweed.

At that time he told officers he knew where there was enough marijuana growing wild to "fill a barn".

Reports stated that he was released from custody after officers from Cincinnati located the patch of marijuana in the Lebanon area and destroyed it.

Covey was arrested here about 9:45 P. M. Sunday night, after he had contacted a local man (not yet identified by officers) in an effort to be taken to some place near Milledgeville.

The man became suspicious of Covey and took him to the police station where he called officers to question him.

Covey was carrying a paper bag which he dropped back of a seat in the automobile. It was found there by police.

When examined the contents was found to be green leaves and stems of what is supposed to be marijuana, which Covey said he had found growing at two places in Fayette County.

Not certain that the green leaves were those of marijuana, Chief Long and Sheriff Orland Hays were planning to have Covey accompany them Monday afternoon and show them where the weed is growing.

In the meantime, J. D. Walley, parole officer, was here Monday questioning Covey, but left him here until the matter of his alleged possessing of marijuana is cleared up.

Cincy Man Held For Kidnaping

TROY (P)—Police today held a Cincinnati man accused of kidnaping a Cincinnati cab driver and stealing the cab.

The man was identified as Justice Kearney, 30. He is held in Miami County jail after his arrest Saturday.

Cab driver James Bray of Hamilton told police a man got into his cab, pulled a gun, ordered him out of the city, robbed him and left him on a county road near Miamisburg. He said he was tied with strips of his own shirt.

Kearney was arrested by the State Highway Patrol near here after a cab collided with another car on U. S. 25. Officers said they found a toy cap pistol in the cab.

Insane Person Now Believed Slayer In Bay Village Case

CLEVELAND (P)—Investigators said today they have virtually ruled out a "casual burglar" or prowler as the killer of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard, 31-year-old wife of a Bay Village osteopath.

Because of the unusual violence of the July 4 slaying, the possibility that the murderer was an insane person is being considered, Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said.

The comely young mother was found dead in bed with her head battered by 25 deep blows. Walls of the room were splattered with blood.

Dr. Gerber said the victim and her husband, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, might have met a schizophrenic person without realizing it.

and she may have been built up in the person's disordered mind as someone who should be destroyed.

Schizophrenics suffer from a form of psychosis characterized by loss of contact with normal environment and by disintegration of personality.

THE CORONER also expressed belief the killer had a strong emotional attachment to the victim.

Bay Village police prepared today to question all employees of the village hospital, operated by Dr. Sheppard's father, where the son practiced.

The suburb's police said doctors, nurses, interns, service and maintenance employees at the osteopathic hospital.

Churchill Says Reds Must End Aggressiveness

England's Parliament Given Briefing On Winnie-Ike Conference

LONDON (P)—Prime Minister Churchill said today his government does "not consider that this is the moment" to raise the matter of Communist China's admission to the United Nations.

The prime minister told the House of Commons that Britain's policy toward Red China remains the same—she favors seating Red China in the U. N. after the Peiping regime has proved "it is willing to forewarn aggression and abide by international agreements."

Churchill also said his Washington conference with President Eisenhower was the most agreeable and fruitful in his experience.

Churchill opened by saying that he went to Washington because he was "deeply concerned at the lack of information" Britain possessed about the hydrogen bomb.

He concluded by saying that widespread acceptance of the idea of peaceful coexistence of Communist and non-Communist worlds might with the passage of years solve problems and "avert the mass destruction of the human race."

"THOUGHT I ought to have a personal meeting with President Eisenhower at the first convenient opportunity," the 79-year-old Prime Minister told Commons.

Churchill said a speech about the hydrogen bomb by Sterling Cole, chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee of Atomic Energy, on Feb. 17 had astonished him.

Rep. Cole (R-N.Y.), said on that day that a thermonuclear test in the Marshall Islands in 1952 "completely obliterated the test island in the Eniwetok Atoll."

"It tore a cavity in the floor of the ocean—a crater measuring a full mile in diameter and 175 feet in depth at its lowest point. Within this crater one could place 140 structures the size of our nation's capitol."

Referring to Cole's speech, Churchill said:

"I was astounded by all that he said about the hydrogen bomb and results of experiments made more than a year before by the United States at Eniwetok Atoll."

"Very little notice was taken over here of Mr. Sterling Cole's revelations, but when some Japanese fishermen were slightly affected by the radioactivity generated by a second explosion at Bikini an intense sensation was caused in this country."

HE SAID his conference with President Eisenhower was the most agreeable and fruitful he had ever had, declaring:

"I never had the feeling of general good will more strongly brought in upon me."

Before the talks took place, he said, other international problems arose, such as the Vietminh operations in Indochina "which were being sustained by the Communist government of China."

Weekend Mishaps Take 13 Lives

COLUMBUS (P)—Spilled gasoline from a truck-car collision five miles south of Lima burst into flames Sunday, killing a 13-year-old boy trapped in the cab of the truck. Drivers of both vehicles also were injured fatally.

In that collision on U. S. 25 south of Lima, Dean Carr, 13, of Ohio City, trapped in the truck cab, was killed.

Tracy L. Loveday, 46, of Monroe, Mich., driver of the automobile, died at the scene of the collision, and Melvin Agler, 23, of Ohio City, the truck driver, died later in a hospital.

Four other persons died in weekend Ohio traffic accidents. The list covers 13 accidental deaths, including three drownings.

Fainting Woman Blamed for Crash Of Taxi into Train

Losing control of the City Cab he was driving when Mrs. Robert Ernst, 303 West Circle Avenue, a passenger, is reported to have fainted and fallen against him, Robert Coy, driver, escaped injury when the taxi crashed into a B&O Diesel on the West Court Street crossing, Saturday at 10:40 P. M.

The cab was headed west at the time and as Coy was applying the brakes to stop and wait until the crossing was clear, Mrs. Ernst is said to have fainted and fell against Coy.

The Diesel was not injured, but the front of the taxi was caved in. Mrs. Ernst suffered bruises and shock. She was taken to Memorial Hospital in the Parrett ambulance and was still a patient there Monday. She was reported improving however.

Numerous Arrests During Week End

Numerous arrests were made by the police Saturday and Sunday. A number of persons driving at excessive speed were rounded up Saturday afternoon.

Donald R. Rayburn, city, was charged with having insufficient brakes.

Edward W. Owens, South Solon, reckless operation.

Edwin Russell Becker, Canton, for driving with improper license plates.

Those rounded up for excessive speed were: Fred Chamberlain, Mt. Sterling; David N. Thomas, City, R. D.; James N. W. Brown, Cincinnati; John J. Ballard, Cincinnati; Harry Vernon Courtney, Columbus; Charles Calvin Barnes, Columbus; Charles H. Bowen, Grexley; Delbert E. Potts, Grove City; Robert H. Weider, Columbus; James O. Harrison, Columbus.

Insane Person

pathic institution will be systematically quizzed to find out if there have been any disgruntled former patients or employees who might have "had it in" for the husky, athletic osteopath.

Meanwhile, laboratory technicians studied scrapings of dried blood taken yesterday from the back porch and stairs leading to the bedroom where Marilyn, the osteopath's 31-year-old wife, was battered in the head by 25 bond-deep blows early last Sunday.

Police theorized the blood might have dropped from the murder weapon, which might have been removed from the fashionable, white, frame house.

Studied also were scrapings from the night latch of the back door, which a neighbor reported had been bolted the night of the murder.

While detectives picked over the rambling house and its private beach on Lake Erie, they excluded everyone except investigators.

While the Sheppard home was being searched, police were told a "busy haired" man about six feet tall and wearing a white shirt was seen about 2 a. m. July 4, when Mrs. Sheppard was murdered.

The description was given by two brothers, Leo and Charles Stawicki, who said they were driving home and saw the man in the glare of their headlights while passing near the Sheppard home.

Dr. Sheppard had told police he was knocked unconscious by a tall, bushy-haired man in a fight the night his wife was slain.

Band Practice Tuesday Evening

Practice for the school bands has been called by William B. Clift, the music director, for Tuesday evening in the band room in the high school.

The Junior band is to start its rehearsal at 6:30 o'clock and the Varsity band is to move in at 7:30 o'clock when the Junior band moves out.

Clift said the practice for the Varsity band was especially important because music that will be played the last week of this month at the Fair is to be gone over.

There are about 22 new boys and girls in the band to take the place of the seniors who were graduated last May. There also are six new majorettes.

Clift said most of the seniors had returned their uniforms but, he added, there are still a few out. He said he hoped those not yet returned would be brought back not later than Tuesday evening "because they are needed by the boys and girls taking the seniors places in the band."

Aged Man Robbed By Two Gypsies

"Doc" Allen, an aged resident of Jasper Township, was robbed of $24 Saturday, by two gypsy women who made their escape.

The pair appeared at the Allen home, asked for a drink of water, and when he went to get it for them, they walked into his home, and while one of them was talking to him, the other jerked his wallet from his trouser's pocket, and both of them ran and got into an auto which was parked at the curb.

The car is said to have borne an Indiana license, but when Sheriff Orland Hays was notified and made every effort to locate the pair, they had escaped.

Search for the two gypsies is still under way, however.

Driver Injured

Norris Halthcock, Bloomingburg, was taken to Memorial Hospital Sunday morning, to be treated for injuries sustained in an accident on Route 38, near Bloomingburg. The Gerstner ambulance was used in moving him to the hospital.

A six pound seven ounce daughter, was born in Memorial Hospital, Sunday at 1:15 P. M., to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pollock, Route 1, Jamestown.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, Route 2, Sabina, are the parents of a daughter, weighing six pounds thirteen ounces, born in Memorial Hospital, Monday at 9:28 A. M.

Mrs. S. E. Dodd Dies in Urbana

Mrs. Gertrude Dodd, 55, of Urbana died at 12:40 P. M. Sunday in the Champaign County Hospital in Urbana of a heart ailment.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodd are former residents of Washington C. H. where they had a grocery store on Court Street.

She leaves her husband, S. E. (Dewey) Dodd, two daughters, Mrs. Louanna Haymaker of the Davol Road and Mrs. Kathryn Turner of Miami, Fla., three grand children.

Funeral services are to be held Wednesday at 2 P. M. in the Neff Funeral Home in Urbana and interment is to be in the West Liberty Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home any time.

Mrs. Roland Lynch Dies in Columbus

Mrs. Ellen Spear Lynch, 33, wife of Roland H. Lynch, formerly of Washington C. H., died suddenly at her home 88 Tulane Road, Columbus, Saturday forenoon.

She is survived by her husband a one-year-old daughter, Jo Ellen; her father, Stanley Spear, of Prospect; her mother, Mrs. Roberta Spear, Atlanta, Ga.; and one sister, Mrs. Doris Jean Koski, of Ashtabula.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynch moved to Columbus six years ago. Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 10:30 A. M. at the Schoedinger Funeral Home, 229 East Slate Street, and burial will be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery, at the noon hour Tuesday.

The Great Pyramid of Giza in Egypt is 767 feet square and 479 feet high.

Sunday School Held In Nature Setting

Around 125 members of the McNair Memorial Presbyterian Sunday School motored to Fort Hill for their services Sunday.

The caravan started from the church at 9:30 A. M.

The superintendent, Frank D. Linger, opened the Sunday School with group singing, led by Mrs. Norman Armbrust.

The morning service was in charge of L. E. Leasure, who gave an impressive talk on the Sunday School lesson. He made it interesting to both the children and adults. The topic was: "Are We Growing As Christians?"

Children from the Fayette County Children's Home were among those on the excursion.

The service was closed with a solo by little 13-year-old Barbara Washburn, singing, "I Have No Secret."

After the service there was a basket dinner. The wooded setting was a very impressive place to hold Sunday School services and many of the group took the trails through Fort Hill afterward.

The caravan assembled at the church and started from there.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower says he feels pretty good about the way Congress, almost evenly divided among Democrats and Republicans, has treated his program. The full treatment won't be known until Congress winds up its work, perhaps at the end of this month.

Eisenhower wants the voters in the November congressional elections to judge his Republican administration by the kind of program Congress enacts.

Here is the record to date: Passed by both House and Senate and now law:

American participation in the St. Lawrence seaway; extension of the Reciprocity Trade Act for one year; a defense pact with South Korea; creation of an Air Force academy; extension of major excise tax rates and cutting of others; providing two billion dollars for highway construction; and increasing the borrowing power of the Commodity Credit Corp.

Passed by both houses but with differences which require compromise before final passage which seems assured in some form:

A general overhaul of the tax laws and a housing act.

The Senate gave Eisenhower most of what he wanted on housing; authority to build 35,000 public units a year for four years; continuing government-insured loans on homes; and use of one billion dollars for slum clearance. The House, which had acted ahead of the Senate, wanted no part of the 35,000 public housing units. Whether the House will yield now and go along with the Senate is not known.

Passed by one house and therefore not law unless the other also approves:

The 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid bill; the farm bill; the wire-tapping bill; and the social security bill.

The House has passed the foreign aid bill. The Senate hasn't voted yet. But it seems pretty sure Eisenhower will get a sizable chunk of the 3½ billion dollars he asked.

Eisenhower won a victory, not yet complete, when the House approved the farm bill with recognition of the principle that there should be a sliding scale — 82½ to 90 per cent of parity — on farm price supports for basic products. Supports have been at 90 per cent for years. It's uncertain whether the Senate, when it votes, will go along.

The White House wanted a law permitting use of wire-tapped information in trials of subversives. The House voted for such a bill, in modified form. The Senate may not.

The House pleased Eisenhower by approving a bill to widen the social security program, bringing under its coverage up to 10 million more people. The Senate seems likely to go along.

What Eisenhower asked for and hasn't got so far:

Reinsurance on private health insurance; statehood for Hawaii; revision of the Taft-Hartley Act; a constitutional amendment permitting 18-year-olds to vote; and revision of the Atomic Energy Act to permit this government to give allies more atomic information.

The Democrats, by teaming up, messed up Eisenhower on Hawaii and Taft-Hartley. In the Senate they worked in statehood for Alaska as well as Hawaii. The House wanted statehood for Hawaii only. Probable result: statehood for neither.

The Democrats didn't like the administration's proposed changes in Taft-Hartley and managed to get them sent to the cooler for this year.

Eisenhower won a big victory, by a narrow squeak and vigorous

It will take about $600 to send the squad to the college and the boys set out to make that much by washing cars every Saturday at the park. They started at 9 A. M. and kept at it until 5 P. M. ## British Wives Shun High Meat Prices

LONDON — British housewives did a lot of shrewd window shopping, and at the end of the first week of ration-free meat they had emerged victorious in an unorganized buyers' strike.

Women admired the beautiful steaks which dealers, freed on July 3 of government control for the first time in more than 14 years, displayed in their shops.

But, with prices generally double what they were in rationing days, women were buying little meat. Hundreds of tons piled up in the shops, and by the weekend prices had tumbled to levels in some cases lower than those prevailing in the years of government curbs.

"I made a tasty window display of lovely meat with price tags attached," said one London butcher. "Well, I watched the first 14 women who took an interest. Thirteen turned up their noses and walked away. One came in and bought a kidney. That's no way to run a butcher shop. I guess the ladies have won."

As a result, cuts of beef were settling down to a general price level somewhat higher than in rationing days. Lamb chops remained about the same. Some stewing meats were cheaper.

Most dealers expected prices would stabilize at just a little above the range of rationing days.

Tiny Progress Seen In Ike's Atom Proposal

WASHINGTON — Snail's pace negotiations on President Eisenhower's atom for peace proposal inched forward when the State Department met a Soviet request for clarification of the plan.

U. S.-Russian contacts on the seven-month-old Eisenhower proposal have been at a standstill since last April 27 when Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov raised certain questions in a note he handed to Secretary of State Dulles in the early days of the Geneva conference.

Yesterday, Russian Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin was called to the State Department where, in a meeting that lasted only five minutes, Asst. Secretary of State Livingston T. Merchant handed him the U. S. reply.

The text of the Russian note of April 27 never has been made public. Neither was the U. S. reply yesterday. The State Department would say only that it answered the Soviet request "dealing with atomic energy matters." Zarubin left the department smiling, but silent.

However, it was learned unofficially that the U. S. message was a point-by-point reply couched in general terms.

Escapée Nabbed

MIDDLETOWN — A few hours after he escaped from the Lebanon Prison Farm, Oliver J. Irwin, 31, was captured near here yesterday. State highway patrolmen said Irwin was convicted in 1948 in Allen County for robbery.

CROP Set To Ship Surpluses Abroad

COLUMBUS — The Christian Rural Overseas Program is preparing to ship 1,000 tons of surplus foods to Europe and the Middle East.

The shipments are pending President Eisenhower's signature on the Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act of 1954, passed by Congress June 30.

Crop says Ohioans will move 124 tons of butter, 55 tons of milk, 90 tons of cheese and 30 tons of cotton seed oil.

2 More Willard Teachers Protest

WILLARD — Two more teachers quit their jobs with the public school system here yesterday, bringing to nine the number of resignations since April. The latest two to quit were basketball coach William Wise and Joan Arrington, a sixth grade teacher.

The trouble started when the school board refused to renew the contract of the former superintendent, Dale W. Gates, who now has been hired to head the New Garden schools near Salem. The teachers here were behind Gates almost 100 per cent.

Ohio Edison Strike Brought To End

AKRON — CIO Utility workers returned to their jobs at Ohio Edison Co. plants in seven Northern Ohio Edison Co. plants in seven Northern Ohio cities Saturday, ending a nine-day strike.

In balloting last night, the 2,200 workers accepted a package increase which includes pay boosts of four to eight cents, an improved hospitalization plan, increased night differentials and seven paid holidays instead of six.

The union originally had asked for a 16-cent hourly increase in pay the company says had been averaging $1.94.

Keep Up Civic Interest, Is Advice Offered

"I have learned one thing," said a well known retired citizen of Washington C. H., in talking with a representative of this newspaper recently, "and that is, if the person who retires after an active life, completely quits everything, has no hobby and takes no part in community affairs or interest in civic matters, he suffers far more than if he would continue working."

Fayette County has its share of retired people and in most cases they have maintained an active interest in most public events and kept up contacts with friends, unless compelled to forego this because of physical disability.

Now and then, however, a retired man will be found in any community who seems to have crawled into a "shell" with complete disregard of people or of anything that goes on. Such a person is more to be pitied than censured.

One report authority in this matter who is connected with the U. S. Department of Public Education and Welfare recently came up with some fresh ideas on what is going on with people who fail to find happiness in retirement.

It is the parrot-like thing to say that people aren't contented when they retire, after a busy and useful life, because they haven't enough to do. The authority mentioned doesn't agree with this—he's all for having people participate in travel, arts, crafts, adult education, and public service after their retirement.

But he may have put his finger on the principal reason why this prescription so often fails to work and why people continue to be unhappy and dissatisfied in retirement despite the best efforts of others to help them lead active and fruitful lives.

This is the "guilt feeling" which afflicts so many older people simply because they're not working. They have been conditioned to this feeling by a whole lifetime of activity. The hardest and most conscientious workers are, obviously, those who are afflicted worst—the man who has loafed and shirked on the job for 30 or 40 years is obviously not the type to worry because he has a chance to loaf all the time. But the man who has worked hard and held responsible positions is likely to feel washed up because he is relaxing for a change.

That's all wrong. At 70 a man should not feel guilty because he chooses the most rewarding ways to spend his hours without continuing in the daily treadmill chores of yore.

New Wage Contract

The steel industry and the CIO-United Steelworkers recently agreed on a new two-year wage contract carrying a five cents an hour pay increase, and increased insurance and pension benefits equaling an additional seven cents per hour.

Workers retiring at 65, with 30 years of service, will receive a minimum pension of $140 per month. As a result, the price of steel to the consuming public has been raised $3.00 per ton.

How To Be an Unpopular Tourist

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Many Americans going to Europe this summer for the first time will come back home with a vague complaint:

"Nobody seems to like us over there. And, for the life of me, I can't tell why."

The truth in many cases, of course, is merely that through an honest mistake in a strange land they became involved in some minor unpleasant incident.

From this small grievance they draw the unfair conclusion that "you can't trust any foreigners" and "all Europeans are envious of us anyway."

On the other hand, some tourists set out on their journey abroad with a chip-on-the-shoulder attitude. They are secretly determined ahead of time to dislike everything and to be disliked themselves.

Since it would spoil their trip if anybody did like them, I have prepared a guide against this disaster. Here are a dozen Golden Rules on how to be sure you can make yourself unpopular abroad.

1. Upon landing, unsling your camera and ask the nearest native: "Where is that rathole I hear you poured all our Marshall Plan funds down I want to take a picture of it for the taxpayers."

2. O being seated in a restaurant, put your wallet on the table and bow low to it three times. This will confirm the suspicion that all Americans really worship money.

3. Whenever you pay a bill, count the change three times after remarking loudly, "They're all out to cheat you over here."

4. If you see a line of people waiting for a bus, don't join the end of the queue. Just muscle on to the bus ahead of everybody, like you would back home.

5. Since you are sure all Europeans think Americans are children, act like a child at all times. If they don't bring you what you want when you want it, sit down on the floor and holler."

6. In London don't forget to say, "I don't see much signs of bomb damage. That blitz couldn't have been as bad as you all made it out."

7. Wherever you go, address everybody as "Hey, Mac." All Europeans are named "Mac."

8. In Sweden and Switzerland they'll be disappointed in you if you don't observe, "Why didn't you guys get into the last war. No guts!"

9. In Germany, naturally, you get chummy and ask, "Well, I guess most of you krauts still love Hitler, and you already got the plans drawn up for the third world war, eh?"

10. In making gift purchases for friends, they won't even know you're from out of town unless you yelp, "I can get the same thing for half the money back home."

11. If a Frenchman even speaks to you, start addressing him as "mon-sewer." You kid an Italian by saying, "Hey, senior, where's junior?" All Europeans like to hear you deliberately mispronounce the language they love.

12. Don't let the lofty, centuries-old cathedrals overawe you. Just murmur to the guide, "Gee, what a wonderful bowling alley," or "Yeah, it's nice, but what movie are you showing?"

Any tourist who follows these rules is bound to be regarded in Europe as the most revolting American of the year. But he'll have an advantage over the average tourist—he'll at least know why he's unpopular.

Scheme for Universal State

By George Sokolsky

In the building of a universal state, it is sometimes necessary to give the appearance of retreat in order more skillfully to move forward. Such wars as World War I and World War II had to be fought in as much a hurry as possible because war exhausts not only the defeated but the victors. In building a universal state, however, time is not of the essence. The object is to accumulate states by infiltration and adhesion—a slower, less costly process.

The French accept their defeat in Indochina and are making the best of it by an apparent compromise. They are retreating from Hanoi and the Chinese Communists will apparently give up Laos and Cambodia Laos and Cambodia can wait until the People's Republic of Indochina, supported by the Chinese Communists, moves, on its own, to unify the whole of Indochina into a federation of autonomous republics. Who shall gainsay the "voluntary" organization of such a federation—the will of the people? And who shall in 1957 or 1958 say that it is not the will of the people?

How easy it becomes to conquer countries when it is unnecessary to fight for them! Soviet Russia has not lost a man in the Korean or the Indochina wars. All that needs to be done is to create a new, high sounding slogan, something that is essentially true in thought but utterly false in application, something like "co-existence." Why, in truth, should not nations with different systems of life co-exist? They always have in the past. Therefore, use "co-existence" as a method for conquest, just as the word, democracy, worked so well at Yalta and Potsdam.

Tonkin and Annam in Indochina are now part of the Soviet Universal State, mastered by the Chinese Communists. These two countries have for centuries been under Chinese cultural and political influence. Sometimes, they were actually controlled by Chinese emperors, long before the French moved into the Red River valley.

Cambodia is altogether a different kind of a country. The people are of Khmer origin. The Khmers must have been a highly civilized people as the ruins at Angkor Vat indicate. These buildings of surprising beauty could only have been planned and built by men of a high state of culture. Some Siamese may also be of Khmer origin, although that country consists of many races. At any rate, Cambodia is closer to Siam culturally than it is to Annam or Tonkin where Chinese influences are greater. In fact, Siam once annexed Angkor but was induced to restore that city to Cambodia.

As the Red River is the main thoroughfare between Tonkin and China, so the Mekong River is the leading river of Cambodia, also flowing from China passing through Laos into Cambodia which it traverses to its delta on the South China Sea. That Delta is one of the richest rice producing areas in the world. Its value to Communist China cannot be underestimated and therefore it must be assumed that its conquest will not be too long delayed.

But for this delta the Soviet Universal State can afford to wait rather than to risk a fighting war which must involve Russia itself. If the French can be induced to withdraw from Indochina and if the United States can be discouraged from going in, the question of the successor state arises. If a Communist Indochina government is recognized by France, does not that government become the successor state? Does not France, in effect, establish it as the successor state?

In 1954, that question will not arise, but in 1955 or in 1956 when other issues attract attention, will not the Communist government of Indochina, after it had been recognized by France, as it is de facto being so recognized now, claim its rights as the successor-state to a unified Indochina which must include Laos, bordering on Burma, and Cambodia on the Gulf of Siam?

So the new empire builds itself, step by step, patiently outwearing opposition, devising slogans which appeal to the Western eye and ear, to the lust for peace, a desire so great in our country and in Great Britain that it becomes a lure. Perhaps there is no other course but to give in until a place is found where a stand can be made effectively. Such a stand could not be made effectively in Indochina except by bombing the mainland of China.

American women spend millions of dollars yearly on beauty preparations to improve the appearance. Cosmetics also serve an important function as a psychological morale builder.

Use of Hormones — It has been known for years that hormones in adequate amounts will bring certain changes in aging skin. For this reason, many hormone creams are now being used for the purpose of eliminating wrinkles and rejuvenating skin.

Test Group

In order to test this theory, a group of women between the ages of 35 to 65 were recently tested. A hormone cream was used on one side of their faces; the other side was treated with an identical cream without the hormone.

It was found, after months of treatment, that the only apparent change to be observed was a considerable improvement in certain women who had previously had very dry skin.

Lanolin Base

The cream that did not contain the hormone contained a lanolin base. The studies showed that a noticeable improvement in the appearance of the skin could be obtained through the regular use of a lanolin base cream, especially for women with dry skin.

However, the addition of hormones did not have enough effect to warrant their use for cosmetic and rejuvenation purposes alone.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

F. R.: Is it true that a spinal puncture can seriously cripple a person?

Answer: The dangers from a spinal puncture are indeed very slight. Thousands upon thousands of these examinations are done without danger. If done properly, there is no need to fear this examination.

More Housing Scandals To Be Aired

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON — Defense and military housing scandals involving more than $1 billion worth of projects will be exposed by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee after Congress adjourns late this month. Current revelations about windfall profits, padded fees, unchecked loans, gratuities and free entertainment for FHA officials are only picaresque.

The inquiry will show that many thousands of enlisted men, veterans, defense workers and their families were charged extortionate rents through higher-up negligence, if not downright dishonesty, in handling funds. So far, the expose has concerned itself chiefly with so-called luxury apartments.

HEARINGS—In the forthcoming hearings, which will be held in every section of the country—New York, Chicago, Cleveland, Columbus, Detroit, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Houston—the victims will be shown to be men still in uniform, who have only a limited income.

In fact, the principal reason why the government undertook the project through insured loans was in the hope that the benefits of lowest housing would be passed on to the tenants and purchasers.

Besides FHA officials, Pentagon figures may be criticized for their indifference to these practices. Many servicemen have complained to their commanding officers without obtaining any relief. Some have brought suits for possible recovery, although lawyers insist that "everything was done legally."

There was simply an utter lack of policing or supervising the program, according to this viewpoint. Nor did the appropriate committees on Capitol Hill show any concern as to whether Uncle Sam's interests were protected.

PROTECTED—Despite Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell's forecast of political indictments by the Department of Justice, it is generally believed that the statute of limitations will protect most of the offenders, assuming that they have broken the law. In many instances, the original builders and owners have disposed of their properties to innocent buyers. It is possible that FHA personnel still on the payroll may be prosecuted.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart of Indiana, chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, has had to resist tremendous pressure to call off his investigation. He has been importuned by politicians and lawyers to "forget the whole thing, since it is dollars over the dam." Some highly respected firms and figures may be involved in the so-called "perfectly legal operations."

In view of the hardships worked on veterans and men still in the service, these revelations during the congressional campaign may prove to be a ballot-box windfall for the Republicans. Most of the projects under review were completed before 1950, when the Democrats controlled the executive branch of the government.

ATTITUDE — Sen. William F. Knowland will face serious opposition within his own party and from the Democrats, if he insists on United States withdrawal from the United Nations upon admission of Red China to the international organization.

Many colleagues sympathize with the Senate majority leader's attitude, but they do not regard it as realistic. It would, for one thing, deprive us of a stage for world propaganda, leaving it free for Russian use.

The U. S. can block China's entry with a veto on the Security Council, which would then permit the General Assembly to pass on the question. Meanwhile it is expected that Washington will try to round up sufficient votes among Assembly members, especially in South America, to blackmail Mao Tse-tung.

Scientist Set For Arctic Study

MONTREAL (AP)—Groups of Canadian and U. S. scientists are going into voluntary isolation in Arctic regions again this summer, seeking to learn more about the mysterious living habits of plants and animals in northern waters.

More than 20 research scientists will take part in the campaign, the ninth of its kind organized by the Arctic Institute of North America, whose headquarters are at Montreal's McGill University.

Aided by grants from the institute, the United States Navy and several foundations and corporations, the scientists will make "a concerted attack on problems of northern hydrobiology."

Sollars-Haines Wedding Is Solemnized Sunday

The bridal aisle of Grace Methodist Church was marked with white satin bows on Sunday, July 11, for the wedding of Miss Mary Lou Sollars, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Sollars of the Sabina and Greenfield Road, and Robert Noel Haines, FW(EN), son of Mrs. Noel Haines of Sabina, and the late Mr. Haines.

Two seven branch candelabra lighted the altar which was graced with three large vases of white gladioli and mums with a background of palms and greenery.

Rev. Harold R. Braden officiated at the double ring ceremony which was read at 3:30 P. M., and was preceded by a program of nuptial music, presented by Mrs. Jerry Dray, soloist, and Miss Marian Christopher, organist.

Mrs. Dray's songs included "Al ways," Berlin; "Because," D'Har delot; "I Love You Truly," Bond, and "The Lord's Prayer," Mallotte, at the close of the ceremony. Miss Christopher played "O Perfect Love," Barnby; "Clair de Lune," Debussy; "Berceuse," Godard; "Venetian Love Song," "C Promise Me," DeKoven, and the wedding marches.

Attendants for the bride were Mrs. Clyde McCray, Jr., as matron of honor, Miss Mary McDonald, Miss Emily Schlue, bridesmaids, Vicki and Jill Sparks, cousins of the bridegroom, as flower girls.

Mr. Wendell Shown of Sabina, served as best man for the bridegroom and, ushers Mr. Bruce Barlow, Mr. Herbert Chance, Mr. Richard Wilson, cousin of the bridegroom all of Sabina and Mr. Roger Sollars, brother of the bride, completed the wedding party.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a strapless bodice, a fitted bolero, featuring tiny buttons down the front, with a Peter Pan collar and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt, worn over crinoline petticoats, was waltz length.

Her circular veil of illusion was held in place with a pleated net cap, encrusted with seed pearls, and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and red rosebuds were caught in the satin streamers, tied with lover's knots.

The honor attendant and bridesmaids wore raw silk, waltz length princess gowns, fashioned identically with strapless bodices featuring soft folds, over which shrug jackets were worn. The honor attendant was in yellow and carried tinted carnations in yellow, blue and white tied with yellow ribbon, while the bridesmaids carried the same bouquets tied with pastel blue ribbon, and each attendant wore a contrasting headband of pleated net.

The flower girls wore pink and white Swiss organdy dresses with matching ribbon bows in their hair and carried baskets of pink, white and blue flowers.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding at the bride's home, and Mrs. Sollars received the guests in an aqua lace afternoon dress, with pink accessories, and her corsage was white carnations.

Mrs. Haines chose a navy blue sheer afternoon dress with which she combined white accessories, and her flowers were white carnations.

Senior hostesses were Mrs. Edgar Wilson, Mrs. Harold Sparks, Mrs. Robert VanPelt, sisters of the bridegroom, Mrs. Rex Cox, Mrs. Stanley Peterson, Mrs. Kenneth Gray of Sabina, cousins of the bride, and junior hostesses were Misses Kay Morter, Madeline Deneen, Jean Ann Boylan and Patricia Boso.

The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake, surrounded with huckleberry foliage and sweetheart roses, flanked with crystal candelabra holding white tapers and the same decorations were carried out on the punch table.

Later, when the new Mr. and Mrs. Haines left on an undisclosed wedding trip, the bride was wearing a turquoise blue crystalet silk sleeveless dress, with sweetheart neckline and hand stitching on the full gored skirt. She wore the orchid from her bouquet pinned at her shoulder.

The bride graduated from Washington C. H. High School in the class of 1952, and is employed in the offices of Dr. James A. Rose and Dr. E. H. McDonald.

The bridegroom graduated from Sabina High School in the class of 1950, and attended Denison University before enlisting in the United States Coast Guard, and is home on leave from Puerto Rico.

Plans for the couple are indefinite owing to the bridegroom's status in the service.

Class Members Are Entertained At Barney Home

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barney were hosts to eighteen members of the True Blue Class of Sugar Grove Church for the regular July meeting.

The meeting was opened with the singing of the hymns, "Sweet Hour of Prayer," and "The Old Rugged Cross." Mr. Gene Juilleratt led in the devotions which included Scripture from First Corinthians and prayer by Rev. Eugene Frazer.

The president, Mr. Howard Barney, conducted the business meeting and Mr. Harold Hise gave the secretary's report in the absence of Mrs. Donald Deneen.

The reports of standing committees were heard and it was also reported that hymnals had been purchased for the Junior Sunday School Department.

The meeting closed with the class benediction and Mr. Barney conducted a Biblical farmer quiz. Later refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Barney, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Juilleratt.

Eddie and Donald Juilleratt and Charlotte Barney were included as guests.

The next meeting on August 13 will feature a picnic at the church for members and families.

Birthday Event Is Entertained On Sunday

Couple Reunited After Each Is Married To New Mate

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—The soldier was telling a reporter of his rodeo experiences when a startled expression came over his face and he blurted out:

"It can't be true—it's my first wife." A pause, then: "My god, baby, I've searched all over the country for you."

And that's how a slim attractive pigroader and the husband she had believed dead five years were reunited last night in the newsroom of the Newport News Daily Press, where the soldier was being interviewed.

The two, Mrs. Wayne Ferguson and Donald Eugene (Tex) Tinkle, had given up hope of ever seeing each other again and both since had remarried.

Mrs. Ferguson, 24, believed Tinkle was killed in a rodeo accident in 1949 at Camden, N. J. Tinkle, 25, now a soldier at nearby Ft. Eustis, obtained a divorce in Nevada in 1951 on grounds of desertion after two years of fruitlessly searching for her.

THE TWO WERE separated in Roanoke, Va., in 1949 shortly after their daughter, who'll be 5 years old Monday, was born and Tinkle suffered a serious leg and ankle injury in a rodeo accident. Tinkle left his wife, then a trick rider, in Roanoke and went to Camden with the show.

"A few days after he left, I received a wire from Camden saying he had been killed in a bad rodeo accident," Mrs. Ferguson said. "He had been injured so badly so many times, I accepted it without question."

She married an Air Force sergeant stationed at Langley Air Force Base in 1951. They now have two children.

Another couple, not knowing Tinkle was married, took the injured man in their trailer with the rodeo to Nova Scotia after the Camden mishap.

He said there were blank spots in his memory but about six months later he began to remember his past and returned to Roanoke to search for his wife.

Tinkle remarried last year and was drafted in November. His second wife is with him at Ft. Eustis. Mrs. Ferguson lives with her husband in nearby Warwick.

The two couples spent the evening together reminiscing and comparing notes of the last five years. Said Mrs. Ferguson:

"It's wonderful to see Tex again but we've both grown up and we've both taken up different ways of life. We wouldn't be happy going back together again. We're just so

4-Year Term Issue Seen Candidate Aid

Incumbents Expected To Campaign Harder Because Of Setup

COLUMBUS, Pa.—Voter approval of four-year terms for all elective Ohio statehouse officials could give incumbents special campaign advantages, state politicians are speculating.

They say it might stimulate rather than curb campaigning as some four-year term backers supposed.

They reasoned that such office holders could run in mid-term for congressional, judicial and other posts—even President—without risking loss of their jobs if defeated.

To give two-year office holders time to work at their jobs without campaigning every other year, the happy to see each other—all four of us."

last Legislature placed the four-year term proposal on the Nov. 2 election ballot for voters to accept or reject.

The proposal calls for changes in the state constitution to lengthen terms of Statehouse officials and those of state representatives and senators who now are elected every two years.

Only the state auditor's term now runs four years. Elective Statehouse offices with two-year terms are governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer and attorney general.

This year GOP State Auditor James A. Rhodes, elected for four years in 1952, is running for governor without risking his job if he loses to Democrat Gov. Frank J. Lausche. But Lausche will be out of work if he loses his bid for a fifth two-year term. So will other elective Statehouse and legislative incumbents seeking two-year terms.

Should Rhodes win, he would take over as governor and appoint his successor as state auditor.

Rhodes has precedent for running in mid-term. Joseph T. Ferguson, state auditor for 16 years until his loss to Rhodes, ran for other offices twice. He sought the governorship in 1942 and opposed the late Sen. Robert A. Taft in 1950.

And Rhodes ran for governor while serving a four-year term as mayor of Columbus in 1950. He lost the nomination but continued to serve as mayor.

The proposal to change the Constitution contains a provision limiting a governor to "two successive terms of four years." Sponsors said it was designed to prevent anyone from obtaining a stranglehold on the state's top administrative office.

Approval of the four-year term proposal ultimately would bring selection of state officials and legislators in non-presidential election years. It would work out like this:

1956: Legislators and all Statehouse officials elected for two years, except auditor. The auditor again would be elected for four years.

1958: All elected for four years, except auditor who still would have two years to serve.

1960: Auditor elected for two years only. Others would have two more years to serve.

1962: All legislators and Statehouse officials, including auditor, elected for four years and quadrennially thereafter.

The next quadrennial presidential election year after that falls in 1964.

The proposed constitutional change will appear on the ballot in two parts. Each calls for a separate vote. One applies to state offices; the other to General As-

Ohio GOPsters Told Political Jobs Coming

WASHINGTON, Pa.—Attention Ohio Republican job seekers: Prospects for openings in the Eisenhower administration look a little brighter.

This word comes from an ex-Ohio minister and chaplain, Col. Edgar Cochran. He should know. He is patronage specialist for Sen. John W. Bricker.

But Cochran cautions patronage jobs have not been plentiful since his party took over last year and that he already had more than 1,000 applications for positions.

Cochran contends the general trend is in the other direction, that the administration has lopped off the payroll some 225,000 job-holders.

He says "increased cooperation" between the White House and Congress should produce more jobs in the next two years.

Incidentally, Cochran insists it is simply not true as a few argue that Cleveland has "hogged" most assembly members. That makes it possible for voters to approve one proposal and defeat the other.

of the Ohio appointments.

In proportion to population, he says after consulting his book Columbus and Cincinnati have done at least as well.

Looking ahead, he says his principal targets are jobs that pay in the area of $10,000 a year.

"There are quite a number of those left," he says. "No, I don't want to list them. I would be swamped with more applications."

Celebration Ends

COLUMBUS, Pa.—Port Columbus finished its 25th anniversary celebration yesterday with an air show that drew a crowd estimated at 125,000.

After 62 Years, Alien Troubled

CLEVELAND, Pa.—In 1892, a 7-year-old German boy was brought to this country by an uncle who had adopted him after his parents died. In the 62 years since then he has married, served in the Marines and worked at a number of jobs.

Saturday, 69-year-old Otto Adolph Fuerst was arrested for deportation to Germany because he has failed to register as an alien. He was released on $500 bond and will get a hearing later.

War Of Nerves Develops In American Loop

Cleveland Falters, Lead Cut To 1/2 Game, But Lopez Unworried

By The Associated Press
The American League pennant chase is developing into a war of nerves.

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez says he isn't afraid of the Chicago White Sox. . . Haven't got the pitching to last out the long season. . . More concerned with the New York Yankees. . . But the Tribe still has the better club.

Chicago Manager Paul Richards merely shrugs off last month, when his club went into first place. He expected it all along. . . The Pale Horse is the team to lick the Yanks, he says.

New York Manager Casey Stengel doesn't have much to say. . . He's been spending his time looking up at the other two hoping they'd eat each other.

Right now, it appears that Stengel's hopes have been coming true. Last week, the Indians swept the Sox four straight games. Had they been able to do the same in the four-game set that just ended, they might have made a run-away of the race. But the Sox won all four, finishing operations with a 3-0, 8-2 double victory yesterday.

The Yanks, who have been taking advantage of the second-division clubs, won their ninth in a row and 12th in their last 14 by slugging the Washington Senators 7-3 to climb within half a game of the Indians. The White Sox are three games back as the chase continues to tighten.

Billy Pierce, back for the White Sox after being sidelined with a sore arm, tossed a two-hitter in the first game shutout yesterday and Virgil Trucks came back in the nightcap to hold the Tribe to five hits. Until the Indians got to Trucks for two runs in the ninth, they had gone 23 innings without scoring a run.

Minnie Minoso hit a two-run homer and Matt Batts hit one with none on to account for all the first-game scoring. In the afterpiece, bonus rookie Ron Jackson homered with two on in the third. That was all Trucks needed. Ray Narleski was tagged with the first-game loss and Bob Lemon the second.

Except for the seventh inning, when Bob Grim loaded the bases with none out, the Yanks had no particular problems with the Senators. Johnny Sain came in to rescue the youngster, who got credit for his 10th success.

In other American League action, Detroit whipped Baltimore 2-1 and the Boston Red Sox won a double-header from the Philadelphia A's 18-0 and 11-1.

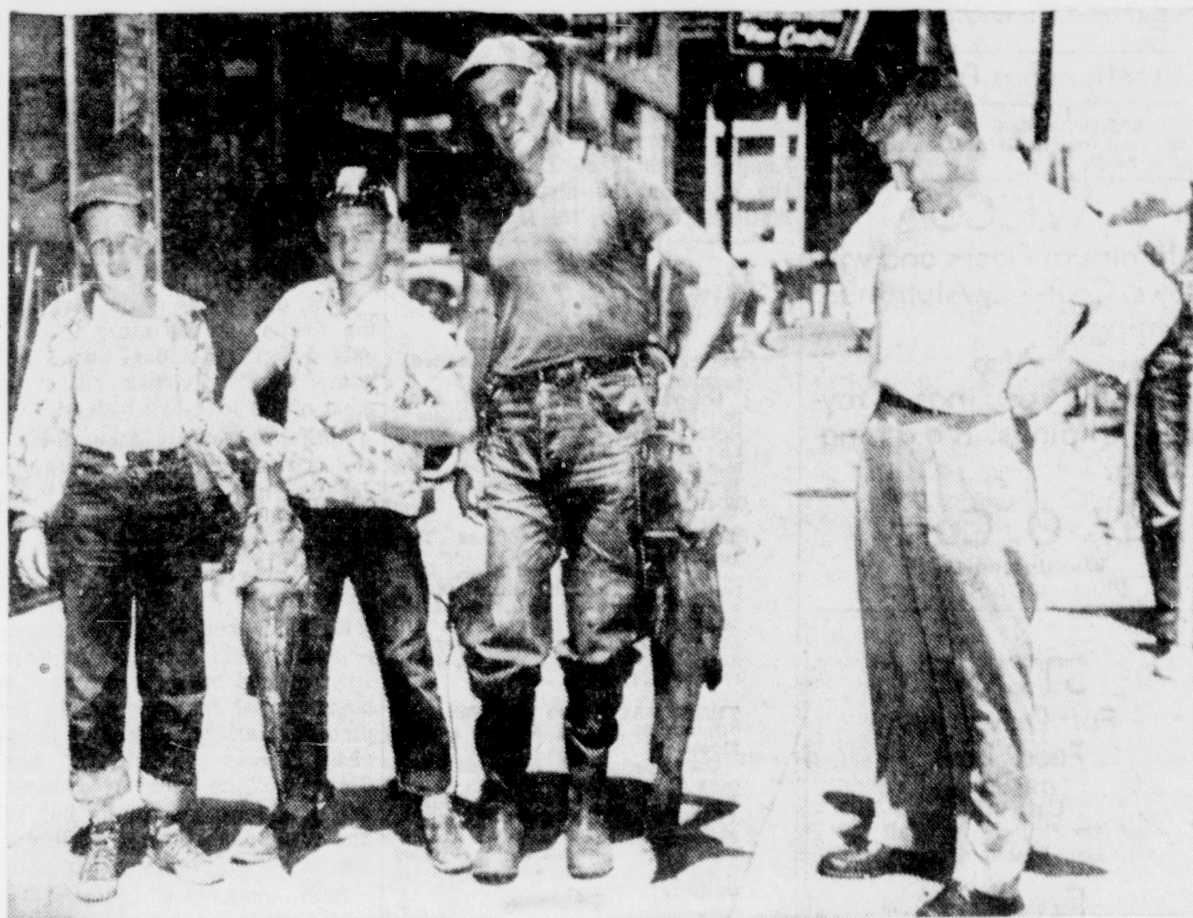

The National League action left the New York Giants still 5 1/2 games in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Giants thumped Pittsburgh 13-7 in the first game of a double-header, but dropped the second 5-1. Brooklyn edged Philadelphia 8-7 in the first game of a twin bill but lost the second 3-1.

Cincinnati and Milwaukee split a double-header, the Redlegs taking the first 6-5 and the Braves winning the second by an identical 6-5 count. St. Louis nipped Chicago 4-3 in the other National League game.

Al Aber, who retired the first 17 Baltimore batters, needed help from Billy Hoelt and Steve Gromek to protect his victory after Jim Fridley hit a home run in the eighth. The winning margin was provided by rookie second baseman Reno Bertoia, who got his first major league hit—a home run—in the fourth.

The Red Sox moved into sixth place from the American League cellar by virtue of their double triumph over the A's. They had 40 hits, including four by Ted Williams, who now is batting .367.

The A's lost Gus Zernial, probably for the season, when the big outfielder slipped and broke his left collarbone while attempting to field a line drive in the ninth inning of the first game. Tom Brewer and Frank Sullivan were the winners.

ESTEL PENWELL OF NEW MARTINSBURG today was out in front in the shovelhead catfish division of the fishing contest sponsored by the Fayette County Fish and Game Association. He and his son Jackie (center above) and Tony Hicks (left) weighed in a 21-pounder and a 10-pounder Saturday at the Fire Department and then went over the check in with Carl Wilt (extreme right) the chairman of the contest committee, at the Moore's Store on Main Street where this picture was taken. Penwell and the two boys got the big fish in Paint Creek below Greenfield. The contest is for many species of fish and is to be discussed at the Tuesday night meeting of the association in the Farm Bureau auditorium. Some of the leaders in the contest to date are a 3 lb. 14 oz. bass; 14 lb. carp; a 1-lb. 1 oz. crappie and a 13 lb. turtle. (Record-Herald photo) ning pitchers.

The Giants massacred the Pirates on six home runs—including No. 31 by Willie Mays—in the first game. But in the second, Dick Littlefield, who rarely could get American League batters out during his tenure with St. Louis, Detroit, Boston and Chicago, snuffed them. The game was close until the Pirates broke it open with three runs in the eighth. Jim Hearn was the victim.

The Dodgers had their troubles with the Phils. They dissipated a six-run bulge in the first game and finally had to win it in the eighth on doubles by Billy Cox and Junior Gilliam. Earlier, Gil Hodges had clouted two home runs and Carl Furillo, one. But Carl Erskine couldn't stand the prosperity and the Phils tied it with six in the eighth.

The second game was tied at 1-1 going into the seventh inning. Del Ennis hit a home run off Don Newcombe to break it up. Herman Wehmeier, with an assist from Robin Roberts, stopped the Brooks.

Jim Command made his first major league hit, a grand slam home run, in the Phils' big eighth inning of the first game. There is nothing in any other major league players have hit grand slam homers for their first major league hit.

The Redlegs beat the Braves in the first game on back-to-back Kluszewski Bell also collected a home run, a triple and two singles for the losing cause in the second game.

Joe Cunningham hit his fifth home run since joining the Cardinals June 30 to lead the Redbirds to their triumph over the Cubs. The blow broke a 3-all tie in the sixth.

Times Square Second And Amortizer Wins

Times Square, the four-year-old pacer owned by Eddie Kirk of Washington C. H., finished second to Bonnie Brook Dean at Vernon Downs, Saturday night.

Making his first start of the season following the Lions Club matinee races here May 2, Times Square, driven by McKinley Kirk, was out of contention for the first heat, but the second heat was a different story. Kirk got the pacer out at the head of the stretch and finished less than a length behind the winner. The winner's official time was 1:58.1 and the Kirk entry was timed in 1:58.2.

Friday night at the upstate New York track, Kirk drove Amortizer to victory in 2:03.2. Amortizer has been a consistent winner so far and is eligible to the Little Brook Jug racing classic at Delaware.

Jackson Favored To Trip Valdes

NEW YORK (AP)—Rocky Marciano's 1955 opponent may emerge from Wednesday's heavyweight match at Madison Square Garden between Hurricane Tommy Jackson of New York and Nino Valdes of Havana.

Although Jackson was an early 2-1 favorite, the price is narrowing and Valdes might even enter the ring as the favorite.

The 10-round bout will be televised by CBS.

Jackson weighed 192 1/2 at Friday's checkup and Valdes 207.

Sport Briefs

By The Associated Press

Fred Green, 28, Saturday broke the world record for three miles with a 13 minutes 32.2 seconds time in London to erase the world track record set by the great Gunder Haegg of Sweden.

Floyd Patterson, former Olympic champ, is expected to get back on the winning path tonight against Jacques Royer, the Frenchman who upset Tiger Jones May 14. The eight-round bout in New York will be carried on Du Mont television.

Willie Troy, a fast-rising middleweight until he was stopped by Joey Giardello March 19, gets back to the wars against Tony Anthony, former Gloves champion from New York, in the 10-round bout in Brooklyn tonight on ABC-TV.

Walter Alston, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was graduated from the University of Miami (Ohio) in 1934.

Wally Post, slugging rookie outfielder for the Cincinnati Redlegs, started his baseball career as a pitcher.

Golf's 19th Hole

Bud Dawson, who finished his sophomore year at Ohio University at Athens this spring, and Frank Truitt, who soon will be leaving as coach of the Bloomingburg High School basketball and baseball teams, will battle it out for the class A championship of the handicapped golf tournament now approaching the end at the Country Club here.

Dawson moved into the final against Truitt when he edged Delmar Mowery, another high school coach who formerly was at Madison Mills, 1 up on 18 holes Sunday. In getting to the final, he beat Jack Hagerty by default; Glen Roseboom 1 up; Dick Korn 3 and 1 and then Mowery.

Truitt turned back Red Reno 2 and 1 and Charles Buxton 2 and 1. Marvin Thornburg 4 and 3 and Dr. L. Cornelius 4 and 3 on his way up.

In the class B division of the tournament Howard Miller beat Gene Smith 5 and 4; Bill Waddell beat Robert Callison 4 and 3; Dr. O. W. House beat Ralph Bray 2 and 1; Cecil R. VanZant beat Russ Kerr 4 and 3 and Ben Wright beat Robert Friezi 1 up.

In the women's handicap tournament, which is paralleling that for the men, the champion is certain to be one of the Sabina girls, because all three remaining in the running live in the Clinton County village but come here for their golf.

They are Mrs. John Petty, who beat Mrs. H. F. Schlu 5 and 4;

Mrs. William Wead, who beat Mrs. Marvin Roszmann 6 and 5 and Mrs. J. E. Dabe, who beat Mrs. William Junk 5 and 4.

Mrs. Wead and Mrs. Dabe will now battle it out on the links for the right to play Mrs. Petty for the championship.

ODDS AND ENDS from the notebook of Tony Capuana, the club pro:

Charles Buxton had a 71 for his best-ever 18-hole score.

Now due are the 18-hole qualifying scores for the first flight of the women's championship tourney.

Howard Miller turned in a 79 for his best-ever score when he played Gene Smith in the tournament.

Paul Field and Don Dix were golfing guests of Harry Fox for the weekend.

The next Scotch foursome has been scheduled for Aug. 15. It will wind up with a buffet supper, too.

New golfing members are T. A. I. madge Taylor and Ken Johnson.

Young Roger shot a 71 and beat out his mother, Mrs. Marvin Thornburg, by one stroke.

Mrs. C. G. Hayes had a 68 for her best-ever.

John Bath had his best-ever, a 41, while playing with Charles Hire.

Mrs. Bill McLean came through her own personal golf marathon as fresh as a daisy. She played 27 holes a day for eight days in a row.

Jerry Wright, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wright, had a 59 for his best-ever.

Mrs. Charles Buxton had a 47 for her season's best. She and Mrs. Wayne Shobe are the only women here to shoot under 50 this year to date.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Vollette and their daughter are vacationing in Florida. So are Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Johnson.

Hosts for the Thursday Men's Nite party will be Dr. William Limes, Glenn Woodmansee, Max Thomas, Willis Chrisman, Howard Miller, Cline Deere and John Sheppard.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dawson and family are vacationing near Lake Erie.

Golfers out for the first time were Leo Edwards and W. E. Seilkop.

Bob Link was the best dressed golfer of the week with a blue and gray shirt, bright colored pants and cap—and a cigar.

Mrs. Robert Lyton and Mrs. Omar Schwartz played for the first time.

Mrs. Barton Little of Sabina has taken up golf and on the right track with lessons from the pro.

Frank Truitt, Dan O'Brien, Dr. Robert Hagerty and Dick Korn had a best-ball score of 28 when they played together Sunday—that's 8 under par.

The nickname "Spartans" was given to Michigan State athletic teams in 1926 by newspaperman George S. Alderton.

John Eisinger of Washington, D. C., is the captain of Duke University's golf team. He has won two letters in this sport previously.

Odds On National Leaguers Soaring For All-Star Game

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two 11th-hour changes in the American League pitching staff have caused the odds on the already favored National League to soar to 8-5 for tomorrow's All-Star Game.

Nobody here could recall when one league ruled such a prohibitive favorite over the other, even during the years when the power-packed American League captured four straight, 1946-1949.

Now, on the eve of the 21st clash, the shoe is on the other foot. Not only does the National own a four-game winning streak but it has most of the long-ball hitters.

Until New York's Allie Reynolds and Cleveland's Mike Garcia were declared physically unfit, it appeared the American League seemingly superior pitching might offset the National's numerous home run hitters.

Reynolds begged off because of a pulled groin muscle and Garcia was excused because of a ruptured blood vessel in a finger. In their places, Manager Casey Stengel chose Sandy Consuegra, crafty
Chicago White Sox right-hander, and Irv Noren, currently hot Yankee outfielder. Noren probably will see action only as a pinch hitter.

Both managers, Stengel and rookie Walter Alston, were mum concerning their pitchers but the expected crowd of 65,000 in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium probably was due to see a battle of righthanders—at least during the first three innings.

Based on the starting lineups, which are predominantly right-handed, and by process of elimination, the field narrowed down to
Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia
Phillies and Bob Keegan of the Chicago White Sox as the opposing hurlers. Both will be well tested by tomorrow

110 Enrolled At Bible School

2 Churches Sponsor Vacation Classes

The daily vacation Bible school opened at the Good Hope Methodist Church Monday morning with an enrollment of 110 boys and girls from 4 years old up to about 16 years old.

The staff of the school was elated over the turnout. Rev. Eugene Frazer, the pastor of the church, was so exuberant that he predicted the enrollment would climb to 130 to 135 within the next day or two. Rev. and Mrs. Frazer are the co-directors of the school.

The school is sponsored jointly by the Good Hope Church and the Maple Grove Church on the White Pike.

One of the most encouraging things about the school, Rev. Frazer said, is that the boys and girls come from an area within a 10-mile radius. He guessed that about half of them lived either in or near the village of Good Hope and that the other half are being brought in by their parents or other brothers and sisters.

Classes started Monday (today) at 9 A. M. and will continue five days a week.

Classes started Monday (today) at 9 A. M. and will continue five days a week. People in the communities of the two churches feel that this theory must be along the right line because of the enrollment, which admittedly is larger than had been expected.

LIKE MOST of the vacation Bible schools, this one is divided into four age groups with teachers assigned to each group.

The nursery group teachers are Mrs. Tom Braden, Mrs. R. B. (Bud) McCoy, Jr., Miss Janet Anderson and Mrs. Mae Smith.

For the primary group the teachers are Mrs. Wash Lough, Mrs. Russell Hatfield and Mrs. Paul Crago.

For one section of the junior group the teachers are Mrs. John Craig, Mrs. Ralph Garrison and Miss Betty Martin, and for the other section they are Mrs. Loeie Eckle and Mrs. William Greenwalt.

For the young people the teachers are Mrs. Bruce A. King, Mrs. Lee Rowe and Mrs. Harold Finley. Five high girls are assisting with the school. They are Barbara Kneisley, Jackie Hoppes, Connie Garrison, Margaret Johnson and Mary Jo Hoppes.

Ike Puts Heat On

in the two versions of the administration's tax revision bill.

Debt limit - Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey may renew this week his pleading for an increase in the legal debt ceiling from $275 to $290 billion, but the Senate Finance Committee balked and there is still powerful opposition there.

FARM—Chairman Aiken (R-Vt.) said he hopes the Senate Agriculture Committee can report formally to the Senate early this week a general farm bill calling for another year of high rigid price supports on basic crops. Aiken supports the administration program of flexible supports, and hopes to substitute on the Senate floor a modified version of that plan, similar to one already approved by the House.

Death Car Driver Now Facing Charge

Two charges of second degree manslaughter have been filed by Sheriff Orland Hays against Jess W. Taylor, 27, Negro, of Bluefield, W. Va., as the result of the traffic deaths of Norris Shaffer and Donald I. Tedrick at West Lancaster July 8.

Taylor is a patient in Memorial Hospital here, recovering from serious injuries sustained when his car crashed into the Norris car, killing the two men and seriously injuring three others, who are still in the hospital here.

Taylor will not be arraigned until he is able to leave the hospital.

Sheriff Hays said the charge was based on evidence that showed Taylor's car was well over the center of the highway when it hit Shaffer's car.

Killed at the same time was Donald Tedrick, and still in the hospital are Russell Bondurant, Lawrence Elzey, all of Washington C. H., and Edgar Fultz of near Mt. Sterling.

Mrs. Eva Marchant Dies in Hospital

Mrs. Eva Marchant, 69, died at 4:45 P. M. Saturday in Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for the last two years.

She was the widow of George Marchant, who died in 1941. They had lived for a good many years on South Main Street.

Although a native of Bainbridge, Mrs. Marchant had spent most of her life in Washington C. H. with the exception of eight years in Plain City not long after her marriage.

She was a member of the Eastern Star at Plain City.

She leaves two sisters, Mrs. G. A. Spraley of Louisville, Ky., and Mrs. Ella Evans of Seattle; a niece, Mrs. R. L. Cole of Seattle; and a nephew, Dr. James M. Holahan of Dayton.

Funeral services are to be held at the Hook & Son Funeral Home at 10 A. M. Tuesday with Rev. Harold J. Braden in charge. Interment is to be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery. Friends may call any time at the funeral home.

The Washington C. H. chapter of Eastern Star is to hold its ritualistic service at the funeral home at 8 P. M. Monday.

Ohioan Guarding U. S. Gold Hoard

WASHINGTON (AP)—William H. Brett of Alliance, Ohio, today is in charge of the biggest known gold hoard in the world.

As director of the mint, a $13,000-a-year post, Brett is responsible for U. S. government hoards of gold and silver, as well as supervising operations at the nation's three mints in Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco where all U. S. coins are made.

California produces between 85 and 90 per cent of U. S. wines.

Big Gathering Of Collectors

Many Guns Change Hands at Meeting

Gun and Indian relic collectors from six states had exhibits at the meeting of the Central Ohio Gun and Indian Relic Collectors Association, held all day Sunday in the Merchants Building on the Fayette County Fairgrounds.

Reports showed 75 collectors were represented in the big display of guns, Indian relics and other articles, including ammunition, gun fixtures, cases, old powder horns, shot containers and loading equipment for muzzle loaders.

Not only was the number of old guns large and some of them of considerable value, but guns of late model, including shot guns, rifles and pistols were in evidence by the hundreds.

A great many guns changed hands in the buying, selling and trading throughout the day.

Exceptional pieces were on exhibition but were not for sale, adding much to the interest of the big gathering of collectors and others.

ATTENDANCE during the day was good, particularly in the afternoon and included many persons from surrounding areas.

In addition to collectors being present from Ohio, other states represented included Kentucky, Illinois, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Indiana.

Monday morning, Robert Quade, the county Health Department's sanitarian, said "the VFW Auxiliary is to be congratulated... they did an excellent job and showed how a one-day sale (of food) can be properly handled."

The VFW Auxiliary served the sandwiches, pie, cake and all kinds of drinks at the all-day meeting and the sanitarian pointed out that "they (the Auxiliary) provided all of the sanitary facilities."

Committal Services Held For Small Child

Committal services were held Monday at 11 A. M. at the Washington C. H. Cemetery for Robert Lee Batson, 30-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Batson of the Yeoman Road, who became suddenly ill Saturday and died within a short time.

In addition to his parents he is survived by two brothers, Ronald and Billy; his grandparents, Mrs. Josephine Batson, city, and Mr. and Mrs. James Pursell, city.

Interment was made under the direction of the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home.

Funeral Is Held For Crash Victim

Funeral services for Norris Shaffer, one of two who met death in a head-on crash on the James-town pike early last Thursday morning, were conducted at the Gerstner Funeral home here at 2 P. M. Saturday by Rev. James Shady, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union in Greenfield.

Rev. Shady offered prayer, quoted the Scripture, delivered the funeral sermon and sang the two hymns, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Going Down the Valley."

Relative and friends from here and the Greenfield and Leesburg communities gathered here to pay their final respects to Mr. Shaffer.

Flowers banked the casket and they were taken care of by the pallbearers, Robert Seigle, Kermit Allen, James Washburn, Denny Castle, William Rodgers and Earl Credit.

The American Legion committal ritual was conducted at the grave and the American flag which had draped the casket was folded by William Stoughton and Paul Southard and presented to the widow. Interment was in the White Oak Cemetery.

Mrs. John Weller Dies at 81 Years

Mrs. Sarah E. Weller, 81, died Saturday at 10 P. M. in the Kramer and Merriman Rest Home on Eastern Avenue. She had been seriously ill one day.

Mrs. Weller was a native of Bainbridge, but had resided near Leesville for 40 years. Her husband, John Weller, died in 1932.

Surviving are a son, Fred, of Sabina; four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren; a brother, John Ely, of Greenfield, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Andrews, of Greenfield.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 P. M. at the Littleton Funeral home in Sabina and burial will be in the Greenfield Cemetery. Rev. Printis Spear of the Leesville Methodist Church, will conduct the services.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 P. M. Monday.

Picnic Enjoyed By Hobby Club

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Whiteside Hosts

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Whiteside of the Brock Road in Paint Township, entertained the Fayette County Hobby Club Sunday evening for a picnic supper and social session.

All business was dispensed with and following the elaborate covered dish supper on the shady lawn at the Whiteside home, members displayed a number of interesting and unusual articles and gave their history.

Mrs. Herschel Hulett showed colored pictures taken in Hawaii and other places, which proved very interesting and were greatly enjoyed.

B. E. Kelley, former resident of Paint Township for many years, gave interesting reminiscences, historical information and personal observations regarding Paint Township, and particularly the area around Yatesville.

This included stories about grade for a railroad through the township, which was never built; death of seven members of the James Adkins family in their flaming home within sight of the Whiteside home; "Haunted Cherry Hill" with sequel to the original story of the murder on Cherry Hill; the vanishing flock of geese; the famous battle between officers and the counterfeiting Funk family, as well as anecdotes of happenings in the community.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Stookey on Friday, Aug. 6.

Thirty-three members and guests were at the meeting at the Whiteside home.

Experts estimate that Americans have twice the spending power they had in 1940.

Mt Sterling Loses To Milledgeville

Milledgeville's ball team swamped the boys from Mt. Sterling, 16 to 6, in their Sunday game.

Errors that were counted and loose play afield that did not show up in the score had an important bearing on the score but not on the ultimate outcome of the game.

The feature of the afternoon was the pitching of C. Hendricks, who fanned 16 to the Mt. Sterling outfit.
